

Tough Talk Just Propaganda For Communist Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently unimpressed, official Washington has shrugged off the new Soviet missile flexing over Cuba as "blast and bluster" propaganda.

The threats from Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky were regarded as blood-and-thunder morale builders—both for at home and for Fidel Castro's regime.

In a Moscow speech Friday, marking the eve of the 45th anniversary of the Soviet armed forces, the Red marshal warned that if Americans attack Cuba, it will mean a third world war and nuclear devastation for the United States.

Same Old Song

The usual type of oratory "you expect on the 45th anniversary of the Soviet armed forces," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk. But speechmaking, he added, isn't going to change "the combination of forces in the world."

Behind the closed doors of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara outlined U.S. methods for carrying out American policy toward Cuba.

Afterward committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said McNamara had "made it very clear that we are pursuing a policy that will result in the elimination of Castroism and communism from Cuba." But Russell declined to go into details on the grounds they are classified.

McNamara also assured the committee, Russell said, that U.S. planes will shoot down any Cuban-based MIGs that attack American ships or installations.

He said the question of retaliation had come up in a discussion with McNamara of the Cuban MIG attack on an American shrimp boat.

Must Avoid War

Scotting at the Soviet suggestion that any U.S. move on Cuba might touch off another world war, Russell said, "I do not believe that the Russians are 10 feet tall. I hope we can avoid any nuclear war because it would kill tens of millions of Americans while we are eliminating them."

Malinovsky claimed that the Soviet Union can "wipe off the earth all targets, industrial and administrative-political centers of the United States." He said it can "destroy completely the countries which have made available their territories for American war bases."

Russell called it "blast and bluster" and said Soviet Premier Khrushchev's decision to withdraw missiles and bombers from Cuba proved "we now have superior nuclear delivery systems."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana found nothing new in the Soviet threats. But Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the Russians should be answered and indicated he might have more to say on that score later.

Hopes Dwindle For Pact To Ban Nuclear Testing

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. disarmament chief William C. Foster leaves for Geneva tonight and an apparently forlorn attempt to bring about an East-West treaty to outlaw nuclear testing.

Although the United States offered another concession on its stand, the Soviet Union refused Friday to increase its offer of two or three on-site inspections, and broke off the three-nation talks.

The United States had banked most of its hopes for progress on these three-way discussions.

Thus the stage was set for an expected propaganda battle in the full 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference. Foster planned to present the U.S. case there.

Friday night, the United States disclosed it had told the Soviets it might agree to mix only seven on-the-spot inspections a year provided the Russians agree to "meaningful" inspection procedures.

In the test talks which have been running on and off since 1958, the United States originally sought around 20 inspections a year. Supporters of the push for a treaty say scientific detection advanced have allowed the West to lower its proposed figures—first to eight to ten and now to seven—without actually lessening the safeguards against cheating.

The new U.S. figure was contained in a statement approved by President Kennedy and issued by the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency following the day's developments at Geneva.

Even if the Reds do an about face and agree to the latest U.S. demands, a test ban treaty could face rough going in the U.S. Senate. A two-thirds Senate majority is required to ratify American adherence to a treaty.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, has served notice that any pact providing fewer than eight inside-Russia inspections a year could face difficulty winning Senate approval. A number of senators say the figure should be higher than that.

Leonard managed the equipment company, a farm machinery outlet, where he was one of three employees. He was last seen Monday afternoon when he left work for his home in Athens, about 35 miles north of Troy.

Blaine, a partner in the Penn-L Leather Goods Co., disappeared Tuesday afternoon.

Police said he left his office saying he was going to Elmira, N.Y., just over the state line. His wife later received an air insurance receipt from the Elmira Airport.

Officer Ted York of the Troy police said he had been told Blaine's brother, who he described only as living somewhere in New York State, had heard from the missing man.

He said the brother apparently received a call from Kansas City sometime after Tuesday night.

Dry, Cold Weather Hard On Viruses, Dr. Feuring Says

EAST LANSING (AP)—There's one thing to be said in favor of the dry, cold air currently prevailing in Michigan—it's rough on viruses.

Dr. James Feuring, director of Michigan State University's student health center, says viruses, and especially the flu bug, die when they hit cold air.

The current chill has kept the Asian flu and most other respiratory viruses off the MSU campus, reports Dr. Feuring.

The cold weather brings about a change in living habits that keeps viruses in check. People tend to eat well-balanced meals, and they stay home and get to bed earlier, Dr. Feuring added.

Castro Denies Cuban Attack On Shrimp Boat

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro today denied that his force had attacked an American shrimp boat. He charged instead that the United States was creating artificial tensions and making the seas off Cuba unsafe for navigation.

As thousands cheered, Castro read extracts from Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky's Moscow speech Friday in which the Soviet arms chief warned that a U.S. attack on Cuba would touch off World War III.

"Fidel, Khrushchev, we are with you both!" roared the crowd at the midnight rally—first meeting of the United Party of Socialist Revolution.

This is a Soviet-style monolithic organization Castro has created to supplant old political parties and to rule Cuba.

Denying responsibility for the shrimp boat incident, Castro nevertheless vowed to defend himself "by all possible means against any attack."

The American boat Ala "didn't even fly a flag," Castro said. "Of course, this was a consequence of the state of chaos which imperialism has created in our waters."

He repeated Cuban claims that his air force was looking for two boats "which pirates had taken."

Castro denied U.S. charges that subversion and indirect attack are the main Communist threats in Latin America.

"We do not practice subversion nor export revolution," he told the crowd.

Two Families Flee From Explosion And Fire In Wayne

WAYNE (AP)—An explosion and fire in a new home under construction forced the families of two adjacent homes to flee outdoors into near-zero weather today.

The families, including 10 children, ran outside as the fire spread to one of the homes and scorched the others.

Fire Chief Henry Goudy said one of six gas heaters used to dry plaster in the new home fell over, apparently setting off the blast and blaze.

Firemen reported at least two other explosions while they were fighting the blaze.

One of the six children in the William D. McGee family first noticed the flames and aroused the family. The Cecil Spencer family, including four children, was awakened by an explosion.

Explosives are menaced

The freight sliced through the truck-trailer rig, showering its load of 5,600 gallons of tractor fuel over the derailed cars. They immediately burst into flames.

"The heat was so intense," said Mrs. Whitt, whose home is just across the street from the wreck, "that the thermometer on our porch registered 60 degrees."

The truck driver, C. J. Kassinger, 52, of El Dorado, suffered back injuries and shock. Two trainmen were injured slightly.

Civil Defense officials and firefighters began a door to door evacuation alert shortly after the crash.

Widow Forgotten

An official of the chemical company where the box car was loaded said if the ammonium nitrate had exploded, it could have leveled everything within a half mile.

Fifty firefighters and CD men raced from house to house spreading the alarm. Somehow they overlooked the home of Mrs. Katie Loper, a 60-year-old widow, just a block and a half from the wreck.

Later Mrs. Loper went down to see what the commotion was about. She said she wasn't worried until she found the post office locked and the town deserted.

Mrs. Loper returned to her home, where she learned of the danger.

Jackson Hikers Jam Up Traffic On Main Street

JACKSON (AP)—An estimated 520 50-mile hikers set out from here today after causing a traffic jam before they got going.

The hikers, including many children and some entire families, started at 5:30 a.m. in a venture sponsored by radio station WIBM.

They intended to follow a route leading through the communities of Spring Arbor, Concord, Parma, Michigan Center, Vandercook Lake and return.

A mile-long main street traffic jam developed as the hikers began assembling.

The border patrolman, engaged to one of the escaping families, led the refugees over the frontier at a point he knew was free of mines.

Soo Firm Gets State Park Job At Tahquamenon

LANSING (AP)—Bids for campground development at Tahquamenon Falls State Park, Chippewa County, and for a new electrically-controlled security door at Marquette Branch Prison have been approved by the State Building Division.

Low bidder on the park project was L. L. Whitehead Co. of Sault Ste. Marie at $21,350.

The Sampalla Construction Co. of Marquette submitted the low bid of $10,650 for the new door at the prison.

The gate, similar to one now in use at the Ionia Branch Prison, will be operated by a guard sitting in a glassed-in cage. The electrical control will increase security at the prison, the Corrections Department said.

Town Evacuated By Blast Threat In Train Wreck

NORPHLET, Ark. (AP)—"The truck driver was beating out the fire around our house and kept saying, 'I pray to God I didn't kill anyone!'"

Mrs. Grover Whitt shivered in the biting cold that enveloped this southern Arkansas oil town Friday.

"The roar of the fire was like it could spread all over you. You couldn't see the train for the fire and the yellow and black smoke pouring out of the boxcar. People were yelling and sirens were going everywhere," she said.

The scene she described was the truck-train wreck that caused the five-hour evacuation of Norphlet's 700 residents early Friday.

Fifteen cars of the 74-car Missouri Pacific freight train derailed, including one box car carrying an explosive load of bulk ammonium nitrate.

The freight sliced through the truck-trailer rig, showering its load of 5,600 gallons of tractor fuel over the derailed cars. They immediately burst into flames.

"The heat was so intense," said Mrs. Whitt, whose home is just across the street from the wreck, "that the thermometer on our porch registered 60 degrees."

Quake-Stricken Town In Libya Counts 500 Dead

ROME (AP)—The American diplomatic mission in Benghazi said today that the toll in the earthquake at Al Marj, Libya, was estimated at between 500 and 700.

The mission said more than 200 bodies had been recovered through this morning, with between 300 and 500 persons believed buried under the debris of ruined buildings.

By RED GRANDY Chief Photographer Stars and Stripes

AL MARJ, Libya (Delayed) (AP)—Dawn broke Friday to reveal the full horror of the earthquake which struck this Eastern Libyan city of 11,000 Thursday night.

Huddled together, dazed and injured, residents of the city saw in the early light the full extent of the damage done by the quake which struck suddenly at 7:15 p.m. Thursday.

Nearly 70 per cent of the city was in rubble. Stone and mud houses collapsed instantly. Concrete buildings were left twisted by the first quake, which was followed by tremors.

More Victims In Ruins

In 15 seconds, the city, located in a fertile valley 50 miles north-east of Benghazi, was in ruins.

More than 250 dead and 500 injured were counted by Friday morning. The toll was expected to mount as rescuers continued the grim search for victims.

Throughout the night U.S. Air Force rescue teams from Wheelus Air Base, Tripoli, British Army units from Benghazi, and Libyan Army and civilian medical teams worked in darkness to help as many of the stricken as they could find.

Paramedics of the 58th U.S. Air Force Rescue Squadron based at Wheelus, the first Air Force emergency help to get here, found families clinging together in the rubble of their homes or beginning to dig out what possessions they could find in the ruins.

Some of the victims, searching the streets for members of their families, walked aimlessly, wailing in anguish. Some wandered in shock, waving their arms and moaning, oblivious to help offered them.

Grave-Digging Begins

Work had already begun Friday morning to dig graves for the dead south of the city, which is bordered by flooded fields and mired by rain-drenched red clay streets.

Paramedics of the 58th Squadron were followed by more medics and the 7272nd Air Base Unit at Wheelus.

Led by Capt. Barry N. Shakhlin, of Hillside, N.J., the men of the 58th administered first aid and drugs to the injured, searched the ruins for victims and helped in the evacuation of injured to a nearby Libyan Army hospital.

Airlift operations continued throughout the night and Friday from Wheelus, about 250 miles east of Benghazi. Emergency rations and other needed equipment were transported to Benghazi.

Within four hours after being alerted by Libyan officials Thursday night, Col. Irwin H. Dregne, commander of Wheelus Field and Lt. Col. William M. McDonald, commander of the 58th Squadron, had dispatched six aircraft with supplies to the stricken area.

Blood donor stations were set up at Wheelus and in Tripoli and American and Libyan volunteers joined in providing plasma for emergency use in Al Marj.

Tremors Still Felt

As rescuers worked through the night to save lives, tremors of Libya's worst earthquake could still be felt in the rubble-filled main street of the town.

An estimated 50 per cent of Al Marj's housing and commercial district was destroyed by the quake.

On board the first mercy flight from Wheelus Air Base to Cyrenaica was a team of medical technicians headed by Capt. Barry Shakhlin of Hillside, N.J. These first Americans to reach the stricken city teamed up with Libyans and British to carry out rescue missions during the night.

Included in the team were S.Sgt. Robert Bennett of Portland, Ore., S.Sgt. Delbert Ray of Groves, Tex., Airman 1C James Dyson of Washington, D.C., and Airman 1C Loch Williamson of Carrollton, Ga.

A C47 piloted by Maj. Peter Scaandalis of Yuba City, Calif., flew medical supplies gathered by the Libyan government.

Two helicopters from Wheelus Air Base left for the stricken area early Friday, making refueling stops during the night at U.S. installations along the coast.

Operating from Benina Airport near Benghazi, a copter piloted by Capt. David Pittard brought the first of the critically injured to medical facilities in Benghazi at 2:00 p.m. Friday.

In the midst of the turmoil at the military hospital, a young Libyan mother gave birth to twins, and then turned to offer comfort and sympathy to the injured.

Home Fire Fatal

ACME (AP)—Dan Chippewa, 47, died Thursday in a fire which swept his rural home near Yuba, just off U.S. 31 between Acme and Elk Rapids in Grand Traverse County. Police said the fire apparently was caused by an over-heated stove.

Escanaba Called 'Branch Capital' For Unity Rally

Escanaba is the capital of Michigan today.

Governor George Romney and Mrs. Romney and a party of Lansing news media representatives were scheduled to arrive at noon by plane for the first inauguration of a governor in the Upper Peninsula. The ceremonies, following a luncheon in the Sherman Hotel, were to start at 2 p.m. in front of the State Office Building.

Meteorologist Tom Coen of the Escanaba Weather Bureau said in today's Weather Bulletin: "I have ordered a high of 15 degrees for the afternoon of this Inaugural Day and variable winds of only 5 to 15 miles per hour. It will be partly cloudy and fully comfortable winter weather and I wish Governor Romney all good luck with his administration."

The committee in charge of the inaugural ceremonies had two gas fired heaters set up on the rostrum to ease the nip of February weather and the program was to last less than an hour.

WLST Serves Network

The event was to be covered by an unusual number of metropolitan and area news media representatives and WLST was to originate a network report on the activities which will be carried to WLST's own big listening area and which will blanket the Upper Peninsula by hookup with the following radio stations using WLST's program: WAGN, Menominee; WMAB, Munising; WIKB, Iron River; WTMJ, Marquette; WMLJ, Iron Mountain; and WMLP, Hancock.

Station WOOD, Grand Rapids, was to originate a report for WLST from Grand Rapids when Governor Romney and his Lansing party take off for Escanaba in late morning after the Governor addresses a state convention of Young Republicans.

The Governor's plane was to be met at Escanaba Airport at noon by a greeting committee of Upper Peninsula Republican leaders led by John Walbridge of Escanaba, Delta County Republican chairman and general chairman of the Inaugural Committee. On hand to serenade the Governor and Mrs. Romney and their party was Escanaba's Lumberjack Band in tassel caps and mackinaws.

Northern Serenade

The bandmen are Herb Peterson and Chet Marrier, cornets; Paul Cowen and Alcott Erickson, clarinets; Ray Richards, trombone; Al Adams, tenor sax; Lowell Sundstrom, bass; and Carlton Johnson, drums.

The inauguration ceremonies at the State Office Building were to provide an official reaffirmation of the oath of office taken by Governor Romney in the inaugural on Jan. 1. The oath was to be administered by Michigan Supreme Court Associate Justice Michael D. O'Hara of Menominee and there was to be a 19 gun salute by Michigan National Guard howitzers, as at Lansing, and an inaugural address by the Governor.

The inaugural program has a festive atmosphere and it will include a public reception in the State Office Building after the inauguration, a reception at the House of Lundington starting at 5 p.m., a dinner for Republican leaders at the Dells Supper Club and a public inaugural ball at Marco's Starlite Room starting at 9 p.m.

Underneath the ceremonies will be a solid round of politicking on organization of the new Romney administration's policies on the Upper Peninsula, which is a geographical third of Michigan.

Pulling Together

The theme of the celebration, "Pulling Michigan Together," is pictured in a large sign on the face of the State Office Building showing Governor Romney pulling the two peninsulas of Michigan into a working team.

The two peninsulas of the state are separated geographically by the Great Lakes and quite diverse economically. The Upper Peninsula is

No 'Easy' Way To Achieve Good Schools, Says Board

The safety and education of youth is the "prime consideration" of the Escanaba Area Public Schools board of education, the voters share in this responsibility, and the ultimate objective "will not be easy," according to a statement by the school board issued today.

E. G. Bennett, school board president, signed the statement. Other members of the board are Arol Beck, Mrs. John O'Brien, Jack Manning, Dr. William Hemmes, J. P. Williams and Frank Bender Jr.

Voters of the Escanaba Area district (Escanaba city and the townships of Wells, Cornell and Ford River) have twice rejected proposals to consolidate the district's school debt and finance an elementary school building improvement program.

Much Disappointed

The proposals were first rejected in May last year and again on Monday of this week. Last year the board asked three quarters of a mill, this year 1.8 mills.

The statement of the Board of Education:

"Needless to say the members of the Board of Education were very much disappointed at the result of the recent school election.

"We are now faced with problems that, at the present time, we must truthfully admit we do not see the solutions because apparently the majority of the voters are opposed to improving our elementary school system and a consolidation of school debt.

Good Proposal

"It is the Board's responsibility to conscientiously formulate a school program which will provide safe and adequate housing for the youth of our district and also an educational program which will be of the utmost benefit to the young people in preparing them for their future.

"This is a responsibility which every Board member accepts when taking his oath of office and one which they honestly and

Plan Conference Of U.P. Youth

Sponsorship of a youth conference was approved at a meeting of the Delta County Council of Community Services held Friday noon in the Sherman Hotel. Twenty three members and guests were present.

Capt. Orville Butts, chairman Christmas Basket Clearing Service, reported that a total of 735 baskets were registered with the committee. This represented the giving of baskets by seven county organizations. It is estimated that between 15 and 20 duplications were avoided by the use of this service. The chairman expressed his appreciation to Miss Lottie Frechette who acted as secretary for the committee.

The group voted to sponsor, in cooperation with the Upper Peninsula Youth Workers Council, a youth conference to be held March 25. Principal speakers for the conference will be Don Dolan, University of Michigan, and Sam Rabinovitz, executive secretary Michigan Youth Commission.

Jack Savard, member of the Delta County Retarded Children Association, reported on plans for the building of special facilities for the school and that nearly $6,000 had been received through the various special projects conducted within the past few weeks.

Ralph Tippet, chairman of the Council, appointed a nominating committee, Mrs. Charles Byrns, chairman, Miss Nancy Pearson and Robert Drew. The committee will present a slate of officers for the next meeting.

Edwin Wuehle, assistant superintendent of schools, Escanaba Area, was in charge of a panel consisting of John Norton, principal Gladstone High School; Brother Nicholas, principal Boys Department Holy Name High School and Stephen Baltic, principal Escanaba High School who discussed the problem of high school 'drop-outs'.

This serious problem facing many of our high school youth will be further explored at the next meeting of the Council March 22 by a panel of employers with Walter Lewke, secretary, Chamber of Commerce, in charge.

U.P. Man Dies As Result Of Train Crash

Houghton—John LaBeau, 25, of Baraga died Friday morning about 11 o'clock in the Baraga County Memorial Hospital in L'Anse as a result of an accident when his automobile was struck by the Copper County Limited on the Soo Line route.

Trainmen said the Limited was traveling about 45 miles per hour. Trainmen also indicated they saw the car approaching but presumed the driver had seen the train. When the crash came the victim was thrown free of the car onto the snow.

A widely known young man in the area, he was employed by the Celotex Corporation in L'Anse. He is survived by his wife and one child.

consistently try to live up to in making their decisions.

"The proposal recently submitted to the voters was arrived at after considering many other proposals and the final decision was made due to some vital factors, such as a favorable bond market and the opportunity to obtain a low rate of interest; some immediate building needs and the fact that a delay would undoubtedly mean having to face a much higher construction cost due to price increases in the years to come.

Voters Responsible

"Although the proposal was defeated by a 2-to-1 majority it is still the considered judgment of the Board that, taking everything into consideration, it was the correct and only economical solution. In view of this, the Board feels that it has fulfilled its obligation to the public and carried out its responsibilities as Board members and this, of course, is as far as it legally can go. The voters have had the final say and they have elected to assume that responsibility.

"At the present time it is impossible to say what adjustments will have to be made, but we can assure the parents of the children that every effort will be made to work out a solution which will entail the least amount of hardship on the children attending our Public schools, with the safety and education of the youth the prime consideration and ultimate objective.

"It will not be easy."

Sault Indians Plan Meeting

SAULT STE. MARIE — Indian claims, a proposed land transfer and an Indian housing project are to be discussed on Saturday, March 2, at a meeting of the Sault Ste. Marie band of Chippewa Indians and their heirs.

The meeting will be held in the Chippewa County Court House at 2 p.m. and has been called by officers of the Indian band.

Attorneys Jay Hoag and James Fitzharris will make a report on Sault Band claims against the government started 11 years ago. One of the Band members, Roy Cavanaugh, said that Hoag and Fitzharris have talked to John L. Boucher, the only active plaintiff in the case available, and have informed him that "prospects for a settlement this year look rosy."

Band members will also be polled for an opinion on possible transfer of land held by them on Sugar Island.

E. J. Riley, a representative of the Department of Indian Affairs, will also be on hand to discuss a program under which the government will build suitable homes for those Indians who want them.

Peninsula Lags In Job Making

Michigan unemployment in December rose to 158,000 persons or 5.5 per cent of the labor force, reports the Michigan State University Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

This mark contrasted with the figure of 7.2 per cent for December 1961 and 4.9 per cent for November of 1962.

All Michigan labor areas except Flint had more unemployed in December than in November.

The Upper Peninsula once again had the highest unemployment rate with 11.7 per cent jobless, a substantial increase from the 9.3 per cent registered in November, but better than the 14.7 per cent of December 1961.

The business activity index (1947-1949-100) stayed about the same at 288.7 in December as compared with 229.8 in November. The December 1961 figure was 204.4.

Arrayed for the Masque and Wig luncheon and card party which will be sponsored by the Education Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the Sherman Hotel, are, from the left, Mrs. Katie Reynolds, Mrs. Carl Westerberg and Mrs. William J. Anderson. Reservations for the party will be accepted up to noon Sunday. Mrs. James R. Fitzharris is general chairman. (Daily Press Photo)

Michigan Budget Is 420-Page Book

LANSING (AP) — A 4-pound, 10½-ounce bundle was delivered to the Legislature this week by Michigan's Department of Administration, budget division.

The bundle was a 420-page book bound in "Romney blue" and crammed with the thousands of items that make up the state expenditures and local benefits budget for 1963-64.

How many total man-hours went into its preparation is virtually impossible to calculate. The budget detail covers the broad sweep of state government, including such subjects as the control of swimmers' itch and the role of Michigan Indians in the Civil War.

The vast, complex and complicated operation of a government the size of Michigan's is seldom grasped by the man-on-the-street, who rarely sees a copy of the budget detail book.

But Gov. George Romney, who must take the credit or blame for the new budget, tried to impress on the average citizen the staggering size of state expenditures in his budget message.

Pointing out that the state spends more than $1.4 billion each year, Romney said:

"To support 1963-64 expenditures for all purposes means that the average tax bill for each of the nearly eight million Michigan citizens, will be $181.09.

"The tax burden for each of the state's two million families will be $632.84, more than enough to keep the average family clothed for an entire year."

Preparation of the operations budget this year was a job that fell heavily on such experts as Assistant Controller Paul Wileiden, who has been handling such tasks since former Gov. G. Mennen Williams first took office in 1948.

Wileiden says that more than half of the physical process of preparing the budget had been completed on worksheets before Romney took office last New Year's Day.

These included the listing of agency requests, last year's appropriations and expenditures for the past three fiscal years.

A fast skimming through the book shows that there is a wealth of interesting detail hidden in the mass of statistics, charts and figures.

These include such items as: An annual expenditure of more than $100,000 for a subversive activities squad to keep an eye on Communist activities and related matters.

Recommendations that the state wipe out such agencies as the Michigan Aviation Foundation (saving $6,500), the Naval Militia (saving $10,300), the Grand Army of the Republic, which hasn't had an expenditure since 1960-61 when total expenses were $58.

Development of a four-in-one vaccine by health department laboratories to combat diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis and poliomyelitis all in one fell swoop.

Veteran Teacher Miss Devine Dies

Miss Lorraine Devine, 60, of 1005 8th Ave. S., Menominee, teacher of English in Menominee High School 33 years, and member of a widely known Delta County family, died at 1 p. m. Friday in St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital after a brief illness.

Born May 24, 1902, in Keweenaw County, Wis., Miss Devine moved to Perronville with her family and was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1919. She attended Milwaukee State Normal three years and received her bachelor of science from the University of Minnesota. She held a teacher's life certificate and a master's from the University of Colorado, conferred in 1945.

She started her teaching career in Harris Township School and also taught in Whitney School and in Daggett High School before joining the Menominee High School faculty in 1929. She served many years as adviser of the senior classes and also was an adviser for the high school year book.

She was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, its Woman's Auxiliary, St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital Auxiliary, Confraternity of the Holy Spirit, Legion of Mary, Michigan Education Association and National Education Association.

She had moved, in mid-December, into her recently completed new home which she shared with Miss Margaret Brammer, Menominee High School librarian.

Surviving are five sisters, Miss Anne Devine, Miss Rae Devine and Mrs. Richard (Verna) Donovan, Escanaba, Mrs. Mable Kilb and Mrs. Fred (Irene) Schoen, Bark River Rte. 2.

The body was brought here to the Alto Funeral Home where friends may call after 3 p. m. Sunday. The rosary vigil will be held at 8:30 p. m. Services will be held at St. Joseph's Church Monday at 10 a. m. with Father Jordan Telles, O. F. M., officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Record Shows New Constitution Not Partisan Document

The charge that Michigan's new constitution is a partisan document is just so much unadulterated hokum, says Harry R. Hall, executive vice president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

"If you were to listen to the opponents of the New Constitution, it would be easy to get the impression that all votes on the many committee proposals were cast on a straight party basis," said Hall. "They expect their followers to accept their innuendo without verification. This is an old political trick that is often used when the case is weak."

Hall reported that the State Chamber has analyzed the votes on all committee proposals that came up at the second reading, when delegates could express their opinions by voting on the issues.

Only Six Opposed

"On the second reading," he said, "the analysis shows" that 73.55 per cent of all the 121 committee proposals considered, had ten or less negative votes. And, with but few exceptions, these were not on a party line. "The opponents of the New Constitution, and particularly Highway Commissioner Mackie's front groups, condemn Section 9, of Article IX which provides that highway user taxes be used exclusively for 'highway purposes' as defined by law. The vote on this particular section was 114 to 6 in favor, with the six negative votes being split evenly between Republicans and Democrats.

"If the proposal was acceptable then, why is it so unacceptable now? asks Hall. Apparently neither party had any objections then. Why the change of mind — except as a nit-picking excuse to oppose."

The report showed also that on the search and seizure section that it was adopted on second reading by a vote of 110 to 1. "Now some of the same delegates, who obviously voted for it are screaming about it being unconstitutional! What changed the minds of some of these hyphenated delegates," he asks.

The report shows that the delegates voted 110 to 3 on the proposal which says that "the legislature shall define residence for voting purposes," and that now many of the delegates who voted for this change are now saying that this limits the right to vote and impairs the elective franchise. "Was this change of mind dictated by the party line?" asks Hall.

"Not a single member of the convention minority party voted against the provision which establishes a bi-partisan Civil Rights Commission," he said, "but now some of these delegates are today saying that the agency they would help create would be powerless and ineffective. Such inconsistency would be ludicrous, if it were not so preposterous!"

The reports covers all of the 121 proposals as voted on in the second reading, and hits hard at the abstentions of the minority party on the crucial proposal on property assessments and income tax, and again on the voting on Section 23, dealing with the vacancies in courts.

"Why some of these raucous opponents refused to express their opinion at the convention is unexplained," Hall said.

"A Constitution is not a partisan question," he emphasized. "It is the voice of the people! The people wrote their New Constitution through their elected delegates. The overall, constructive advancements for Michigan's future must be the primary and the ultimate determinant in passing judgement on the fundamental law."

"The opposition's attempt to inject partisanship into consideration of the New Constitution shows a glaring weakness in their arguments against it," Hall concluded, "and testifies most eloquently to the basic strength of the New Constitution."

Four Scholarships Offered For Study In Library Science

Four $2,000 scholarships for graduate study in library science are being offered by the Michigan State Board for Libraries, according to Miss Genevieve M. Casey, state librarian, and secretary of the board.

Designed to stimulate rural public library work in Michigan and to provide trained personnel for the development and improvement of rural library service, the scholarships are being offered for the fourth straight year through funds provided by the Federal Library Services Act.

Because the scholarship funds are made available under the Federal Library Services Act, recipients will be expected to work for two years following graduation in a public library in Michigan serving a rural area. Such an agreement imposes few restrictions on the type of library and none on the work the recipient may choose. He may work in a large or small public library system with outlets and headquarters in large or small cities.

Persons with provisional acceptance from an American Library Association accredited library school of his choice may apply to: Rural Public Library Scholarships, Michigan State Library, 125 East Shiawassee St., Lansing 13, Mich. Final date for filing is April 1.

detail checked his daily operations sheet. Sure enough, a reception was due to start in 15 minutes.

The S. S. chief asked who had invited them. The Legionnaires said they were the personal guests of Hal Beaton himself.

That Solved It "I know Hal Beaton," said the Secret Service man. "He's here nearly every day. But he's not on the guest list for today's reception."

"Naturally not," said the Legionnaires haughtily. "He wouldn't be on the guest list for his own reception."

"You say he's the guest of honor?"

"Sure—who else?"

"We sometimes have other guests of honor here," said the S. S. chieftain. The visitors looked skeptical.

"Why," persisted the security boss, with a growing feeling of helplessness, "would a reception for Hal Beaton be held here?"

"Where else would it be held except here at American Legion national headquarters?" demanded the Legionnaires.

That solved everything.

Former Resident, Mrs. Anna Pond, Dies In Milwaukee

University Status Delights Northern

MARQUETTE — The news that Northern Michigan College soon will become Northern Michigan University produced appreciation and a sense of pride on the NMC campus today.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern, said "the faculty, students, alumni, and people of the Upper Peninsula appreciate this vote of confidence by the Legislature."

The state senate adopted the house-approved "university status" bill, 33-0, voted to give it immediate effect and sent it on to Governor Romney for his signature.

"With this kind of support, and with the encouragement given us by the State Board of Education, Northern will continue to grow in service to the Upper Peninsula and to the state of Michigan," Dr. Harden said.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti of Neenah, author of the name-change bill, and all Upper Peninsula senators and representatives were praised for their support of Northern.

The 64-year-old college established in 1899 has become the fastest-growing institution of higher learning in Michigan, according to a study made by the Citizens Research Council.

Dr. Harden said "The real significance of university status lies in the increased educational opportunities and public services that will be made available."

The new name will be the fifth in Northern's history, reflecting the broadening scope of the institution's purpose.

Originally established as the Northern State Normal School, the name was changed to Northern State Teachers College in 1928 after four-year programs leading to the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees had been adopted.

In 1941, Northern became Northern Michigan College of Education. The "of Education" designation was dropped in 1955 when the official name became Northern Michigan College.

Northern's greatest growth has occurred during the past 10 years when enrollment rose from 586 to 3,600, the number of buildings increased from seven to 27, and the size of the campus grew from 70 to 160 acres.

Michigan Bankers Offer Scholarships To Young Farmers

Michigan State University this week announced that banks throughout the state will offer scholarships to young men enrolling in the first term of the General Agriculture Short Course.

The Michigan Bankers' Short Course Scholarship program for the young farmers started in 1949 and since that time 1,280 young men and women have been awarded scholarships. Through the program the bankers assist young people in securing training that provides leadership development as well as technical agricultural subject matter.

All that is required is that the student complete an informational form of personal data, which is supported by the high school teacher and the county agricultural extension official.

Once completed the form is then submitted to the local bank where the student's parents do their banking. The decision as to whether or not the student is to receive the scholarship is up to the Board of Directors of the bank. In some instances this approval is handled by the County Bankers' Assn.

During the first term subject matter classes are offered in: livestock selection and adaption, farm law, farm management, business communications, reading improvement, arithmetic improvement, chemistry, farm dairying, cereal crops, family living, farm power and farm shop.

In the past all of the Escanaba banking firms have participated in the program.

It is recommended that the applications be handled before high school graduation.

Dear Al:

It is a pleasure for me to, belatedly, say "congratulations" to you and your staff at WLUC-TV for the terrific job all of you did in producing and presenting the 1963 March of Dimes Telethon.

The March of Dimes Telethon, in its third year, topped the 1962 total by approximately 11%, and the 1962-1963 combined increase shows a 36% gain over the first Telethon of 1961. This record is stupendous considering the handicaps which WLUC-TV and the Telethon Committee work under. Especially so when we take into consideration that the 1963 Telethon in Milwaukee, Wisconsin received pledges totalling to only $76,000.00, in an area which holds many more times the wealth than our Upper Peninsula.

Of course, each and every person who participated in the Telethon, whether as a worker or a television viewer phoning in a pledge, aided the March of Dimes in this successful endeavor. But, I dare say that you people at WLUC-TV were of the utmost importance to the Telethon through your assistance to the planning committee, through your efforts to publicize the program, and through the technical efforts and know-how each and every member of your staff put forth in the 18-hour "spectacular".

The five thousand and five hundred plus pledges phoned in during the program, from all over the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin and Canada, show beyond a doubt that WLUC-TV has maintained excellent coverage throughout the area it serves, even through the competition in the TV field has grown keener through the heavy saturation of cable TV.

I am happy to report at this time that our pledge returns are ahead of last year. The monies raised on the show will go a long way in reducing the debt of the Upper Peninsula chapters and enable them to give greater assistance to patients with birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis. Also, these funds will allow The National Foundation to carry on its unprecedented research and treatment center programs, and assist in the development of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

Al, we of The National Foundation - March of Dimes are deeply indebted to you and your employees. Thanks so much! I hope that we all have the pleasure of working together again for the 1964 March of Dimes Telethon.

Peninsula Inaugural

Governor George Wilcken Romney was to be inaugurated this afternoon in a ceremony in front of the State Office Building in Escanaba.

The ceremony is without precedent in Michigan history. It is without formal meaning in a legal sense as George Romney was inaugurated as governor of all Michigan at the state capitol in Lansing on January 1. But it is meaningful in another sense.

That the new Governor of Michigan would come to the Upper Peninsula for a ceremonial inaugural to show the people of this northern third of Michigan the measure of his concern for the Upper Peninsula is greatly heartening and in keeping with his past performance. Governor Romney is the only Governor of Michigan who returns to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as its chief executive after having made several tours here in a citizen effort to help the state.

As the president of Citizens for Michigan he urged audiences in Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Marquette to take a greater non-partisan part in Michigan self-government.

After this great service of citizen study and leadership to troubled Michigan Romney served as a vice president of the 1962 Constitutional Convention which wrote the state's new constitution. It is up for voter ratification in the April 1 election.

He has started his administration with appointment of able persons to state office and with offer of a budget which is conservative and realistic; which would start reduction of the state's big debt and which would increase the income for education and other crucial needs of the state. The budget would top this year's record outlay by $35 million but it still is conservative in light of the demands being made upon the state treasury by the state's services.

Romney campaigned for office on a platform of equal service to all the people and factions of Michigan. He has undertaken an honest performance of this intent in office. "I have as great an obligation to represent your concerns as those of corporations or employers," Governor Romney told the State AFL-CIO biennial educational conference recently.

That this intent will be credited unanimously in a Michigan which has had a decade and a half of intensely bitter fighting between the Republicans and the Democratic-Labor coalition is beyond expectation. But the public need only wait to test the honesty of his intention.

Meanwhile he is working at an enormous task of improving Michigan's internal economy and its national image. "Our weakness (in job creation) lies in the fundamentals," he told the AFL-CIO-labor costs and industrial problems, taxes, the governmental and judicial climate. Our state, he said, can regain her national standing by cooperation of her citizens in solving the divisions in her government and her economy.

No party nor person can lose by testing this leadership. It seems heaven sent from a great triumph in the industrial world (Romney resuscitated drowning American Motors) to a politically torn Michigan.

It is a pleasure to welcome back as Governor Romney the man who worked so devotedly as a citizen to help the Upper Peninsula and all Michigan.

The Upper Peninsula has problems which are unique and serious. Some governors of the state have ignored them, some have regarded them as insoluble and some haven't even bothered to learn about them, except superficially.

The area is an enormous resource for Michigan and for the nation, but its development has never been properly attended by the state, which taxed away its timberlands from their private owners and is now repeating the process with its mines. Its great natural beauty has prompted official suggestions that it be made into a great picnic area, although this would doom its proper and maximum development—even for picknicking.

It is the Upper Peninsula's bad luck that it is part of a state which has achieved its greatest wealth through manufacturing and that it applies this yardstick to all its areas now and regards them as retarded or progressive accordingly. Such judgment neglects the separate character of the Upper Peninsula; demeans and retards it.

The situation makes specially hopeful an interest like that of Governor Romney.

Finding The Way

Sacrifice Is Love

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In a short time we shall come to the Lenten season and some hearty Christian souls will discuss sacrifices. It's a term that is little understood in Western society. The "sacrifices" that most people make consist of foregoing a few luxuries.

A few weeks ago a national magazine reported the high caloric consumption of a citizen of the United States or Canada. It becomes apparent at once that to forsake a bit of food, to skip a dessert, is hardly a sacrifice in a world that has so many hungry persons. If an adult only needs 2,500 calories a day, is it sacrifice if he cuts down to 3,000 calories? And this in a world where there are millions who exist on 1,100 calories daily?

● Africa has 7 per cent of the world's population, and 2 per cent of the world's income.
● Asia has 52.3 per cent of the world's population and 12.3 per cent of the world's income.
● Europe has 22 per cent of the world's population, with 37.7 per cent of the world's income.
● North America has 6.7 per cent of the world's population, with 39.8 per cent of the world's income.

It is obvious that the gift of an additional token of money is hardly to be considered as a sacrifice in such a frame of reference.

The fact that many of the churches have poured out an abundance of wealth and materials in the past decade to alleviate the woes of many peoples is exciting. At no time in history has there been such compassion-

Edson In Washington Memory Lane

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (N E A) — James MacGregor Burns of Williams College spent a few days in Washington recently, doing a little missionary work on his plan for reforming everything he says is wrong with American politics. He didn't make much progress.

The Burns program, set forth in his new book, "The Deadlock of Democracy," has the revealing subtitle "Four Party Politics in America."

Dr. Burns is not the discoverer of this phenomenon—nor the first to complain about it. His first 300 pages give the history of how this system developed. The last 75 tell what he thinks should be done about it today.

Instead of throwing up his hands in despair and saying that nothing can be done to prevent any one of the four minorities in Congress from thwarting the will of a majority and stalemating major White House proposals, Burns presents a program by which he says President Kennedy might change the system.

This would involve a root-and-branch reorganizing and strengthening of the Presidential Democratic party, as distinguished from the Congressional Democratic party. It would have the national party establish its own congressional district organizations, financed, directed and staffed by national headquarters. State and local party organizations would still be used but only as branches of the national party.

The purpose of this, according to Burns, would be to have Kennedy re-elected in 1964 by such a big vote that he could carry into Congress on his coattails the whopping majorities which President Roosevelt won in 1936.

As a matter of fact, this is also the objective of the President's White House political henchmen. At the recent Democratic national committee and state chairmen's meeting in Washington, the 1964 campaign line was handed down that every congressional candidate should support the President.

Such a victory would bring with it, according to Burns, the reorganization of Congress to permit the party caucus and policy committee to function more effectively in support of the President's programs. There would be more party discipline and much less independence and free wheeling on major issue votes.

Burns thinks the Democratic party cannot live forever on the issues inherited from the Roosevelt and Truman eras. Get away from issues like food, clothing and shelter, he says. Take the path laid down by Arthur Schlesinger

By HAL COCHRAN

A New York man broke a would-be store thief's nose. The moral is, keep your nose out of other people's business.

People who know it all are the ones who know so many things about which they know nothing.

Never throw away dried-up bread. That's for the birds.

Maybe undergarments are responsible for a lot of baby talk. Itchy-cool

Jr., towards "qualitative liberalism."

Let the government support the arts, education, civil rights, a vast expansion of recreational facilities, urban renewal, improve the tone, efficiency, imagination and sensitivity of government itself and "insist on the superior use of mass media."

Whatever this last means is not explained, but it seems to imply that the press, radio, television, movies, theaters, and maybe even phonograph records or tapes should do more of an educational or propaganda job for whatever party may control the White House.

A lot of this new platform may sound something like the present administration's new management and many cultural programs, which already aren't receiving wholehearted support.

There is nothing wrong with Burns having an idealistic program. That is one of the things professors are for. But from the standpoint of practical politics, it is difficult to see that many or any of the changes he suggests are going to be accepted by congressional, state and local political leaders. These leaders are still firmly in the saddle and show no inclination to budge.

Congressional progressives of both parties this year are making desperate efforts to change some of their worst and most obsolete rules and practices. The going is tough.

If Congress can agree as a first step to the establishment of a commission just to study the question of its reorganization, that will be as much as you can expect this year.

If such a commission could get Congress to agree on a few basic recommendations like insisting in the germaneness of debate, curbing the seniority system, staffing of congressional committees, curbing of congressional junketing and payroll padding, raising the ethical standards for congressmen, and defining what constitutes a conflict of interest to end its abuses—that would be about all you could expect for 1964.

STREET SAFETY

Safety Suggestion: Make 3rd Ave. S. a through street, except 10th St. and 14th St. Any traffic coming into 3rd Ave. S. will stop, meaning safety for students. Police patrol will be easier. Sidewalks should be installed all along route. Then get students into the habit of using sidewalks.

So They Say

It is no use talking of ourselves as the vanguard of freedom and democracy while any of our fellow Americans can be treated like James Meredith at the University of Mississippi. — Adlai Stevenson.

We must turn education back to the teachers and take it out of the hands of promoters and administrators. It's time the teachers stepped up and started taking charge. . . I think the teacher should get more money than a senator—or even an admiral.—Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover.

Will White House Control Hiring Of Summer Workers?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., has asked President Kennedy to confirm or deny a report the White House has taken control over the employment of 10,000 summer workers in government jobs.

"When and if politics completely usurps our Civil Service Commission, and student summer jobs in government are awarded primarily on party label, then our country surely is in a sorry state of affairs," Harvey said in a statement.

"The administration should be urging equal job opportunities for everyone but it may be only interested in extending its vigorous game of politics to everything that moves, breathes or exists."

The report said a clearance system was being set up among the various federal agencies under which the names of all students applying for summer employment in the government will be sent to the White House.

Boy Scout Camporee Site Will Be Developed

A meeting of the Boy Scout development committee will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 5 at the court house to discuss development of a 40-acre tract on Indian Lake into a permanent camporee site.

The tract, west of the train bridge and near Intake Park was donated and deeded by Stearns Coal and Lumber Co. July 17, 1934 and presently is in possession of the public schools. It has been used quite often for Scout activities such as campouts, hikes and patrol outings.

The camporee site will be improved with addition of an administration building, cooking facilities, restrooms, etc. The site will be available for district and regional activities such as the Klondike Derby in February. The site would also be available for Scout organizations in the county, provided there is adult supervision.

Members of the committee are Gerald E. Vickery, chairman from the Air Search and Rescue squadron, Nalbert Gerber, Boy Scouts of America, John Schmitt, Boy Scout commissioner, Carl Frieberg, Boy Scouts of America, Ken Gillingham, Boy Scouts of America, Denton Nelson, scout board, Barney Dusek, Boy Scouts of America, Bob Thorrell, Jaycees, James Gierke, Lions Club. Interested organizations are invited to have a representative at the meeting.

A program for general Boy Scout development for the coming year will also be discussed.

Civics Class Is Formed

Persons who want to be informed about their local and county government are asked to attend the Tuesday evening meetings in civics at the High School from 7 to 9 p.m., there is no charge for the course, offered in room 25.

At the first meeting Ferdinand Lesica, county clerk, explained relationship between units of county and local government and answered questions about deeds and abstracts, social welfare, the airport and voting procedure.

Mayor Harold Carlson, scheduled to speak next week will discuss city government and answer related questions a week later, due to prior commitments. William Cowman, county treasurer will speak at the coming session. Rural teachers are sponsoring the civics class.

St. Alban Lenten Plans Announced

The Lenten season will begin Ash Wednesday at St. Alban Episcopal Church with celebration of the Holy Eucharist at evening services at 7:30 p.m.

The traditional blessing and imposition of ashes takes place before Eucharistic services. Other special services in Lent will be held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. At these services the Rev. Ernest Kempf, vicar will celebrate the Holy Eucharist and give a series of sermons on the Eucharist. The sacramental and the sacrificial aspects of the Holy Eucharist and the question of the validity of the Anglican order will be discussed.

The congregation will sing hymns and a question and answer period will follow for those who wish to remain. All are welcome.

Floor Refinishing No Fast Task

AP Newsfeatures
If the existing finish on a wooden floor is in poor condition, only a complete resurfacing job can prepare it for a new finish. It's the kind of home project you can undertake yourself. But don't expect it to be one of those fast, get-it-done tasks you can accomplish in a couple of hours. It's going to take, at the very least, two days — and more often than not, several days, especially if one of the slower drying finishes is used.

You'll need two sanding machines. The large, drum-type sander will handle the bulk of the floor. A small edger will handle areas next to the walls where the larger sander will not reach. These can be rented by the day. There's no use renting them and then letting them remain idle a day or two while you complete the necessary preparations. Make arrangements ahead of time for the renting, but specify that you do not want the machines until such-and-such a time.

The preparations start with the moving of as much furniture out of the room as possible; preferably all of it. After that comes a close inspection of the floor for defects. Especially look for protruding nail heads. Drive these below the surface with a hammer and punch and fill the holes with wood putty or plastic wood. Be sure to put enough putty into the holes so that a tiny bit of it is higher than the surrounding surface. The putty often shrinks while drying and, besides, the sanding machine will smooth down the excess.

Where there is any squeaking or buckling, drive in two-inch finishing nails, about an inch and a half apart and slanted toward each other at the tips. Threaded nails have extra holding power.

In using the machine, start with a coarse sandpaper, then a medium and then a fine. Always be sure the machine is in motion before the drum is lowered to the floor. And always raise the drum before stopping the machine. The sander should never be kept in one spot while the motor is on. The edger will sand most areas which the large machine can not reach, but sometimes even the edger will not get properly into corners. In that case, it will be necessary to take off the old finish in corners with a varnish remover and a putty knife. Follow directions on how long to allow the remover to stand before scraping.

You can use any one of many floor finishes, depending on what kind of appearance is sought. If you like a gloss, the choice usually is between varnish and shellac.

A low-sheen finish that has become fairly popular in recent years is penetrating sealer. Instead of leaving a hard, glossy finish, the penetrating type, as the name implies, sinks into the wood. It can be applied with a brush, mop or cloth and must be wiped off in about 15 minutes to prevent stickiness. But here again, clearly follow the instructions that come with the particular brand of penetrating finish you select.

House of the Week

Room Left For Luxuries

Room To Grow In: This 1½-story model has three bedrooms on the main floor plus an 804-square-foot upstairs expansion which adds two more bedrooms. For all its space and glamorous looks, a basic frame and standard lumber lengths allow it to remain in the economy category.

By JULES LOH

You'd never know it by glancing at it from the street, or even by inspecting it closely inside and out, but our house today is intended for folks with a problem budget — and that's just about everybody.

Specifically, architect Rudolph A. Matern designed this three-bedroom house for couples who expect both their families and their incomes to get considerably larger as the years go by, but right now have only two or three kids and an equally modest bank balance.

The house is constructed essentially around a basic frame using standard lumber lengths and a simple down-the-center main steel girder.

The savings in this elementary type of structure enabled Matern to add features which give it striking curb appeal (as the developers refer to an interesting and tasteful exterior) as well as tailor made comfort inside—without taking it out of the economy category.

Some of these extra benefits include:

- A 12-foot bow window in the front, adding glamor to the formal entertaining area and charm to the exterior facade.
- A 90-degree curved staircase different and utilitarian. They have broad counter tops and plenty of room; upstairs there is an angled tub, and the downstairs bath has twin lavatories.

If it's possible for a large family to have an over supply of closets and storage space, this house plainly has it. No room is lacking, and even the service closets—upstairs and downstairs linen closets and the coat closet in the foyer — are well proportioned. There is additional storage space in the cellar, of course.

Another nice feature of this house is the location of the laundry. It is next to the kitchen, convenient for a busy housewife, and also near the bedroom wing so there's no unnecessary hauling.

The formal area of the house stretches 18 feet in one direction and more than 26 feet in the other, a spacious ell with points of interest in every direction—window, fireplace, foyer and sliding doors leading to the rear dining terrace.

The rear service entry is directly opposite the front entrance, which presents an uncomplicated flow of traffic to all parts of the house without any room being used as a passageway.

In short, the house is pleasing to look at as well as to live in, and solves the knotty problem of how to get a large family into a basically small and inexpensive area.

J-62 STATISTICS

A 1½-story house with three bedrooms and one bath on the main level and upstairs expansion room for two more bedrooms and second full bath. Basic house contains 1,316 square feet in over-all dimensions of 50'4" wide by 27'9" deep. Upstairs expansion adds 804 square feet.

with an open balcony, which is an unusual and dramatic touch in any home, especially one this size.

—A curved wall in the kitchen, different enough to prevent any drabness in this important area no matter how else it's furnished.

—A four-foot-wide log burning fireplace in the living room.

—Recessed front and rear terraces for weather protection.

—A gracious entrance foyer of elaborate proportions and equipped with a damage proof flagstone floor.

But clearly the biggest economical advantage of the house is a second floor expansion of 804 square feet, enough room to add two more huge bedrooms and a second full bath. The extra rooms can be built as they become necessary, and much of the finishing work done by a handy husband.

For all of its luxury-house niceties and abundance of space, the basic area of the home is only 1,316 square feet and its over-all dimensions a neat 50'4" wide by 27'9" deep.

Additional Details

The exceptionally large upstairs rooms are the result of a 38-foot dormer across the back. The ceilings are full height and flat, not the head-bumping sidewall splay usually found in 1½-story homes.

Both the upstairs rooms have adjoining alcoves for dressing, homework, hobbies or storage. The design of the bathroom—both bathrooms, for that matter—is both

Director Leaves Blue Shield Job

DETROIT (AP)—Sumner H. Whittier, 51, executive director of Michigan Blue Shield, says he will not seek renewal of his contract, which expires in one week.

Whittier's decision was announced Thursday night. It had been reported earlier the board of the non-profit, prepaid medical insurance plan, Blue Cross, failed in a bid to have rates increased for individual senior citizen subscribers.

Dr. Alfred H. Whittaker, president-elect of the Wayne County Medical Society and a Blue Shield Board member, publicly rebuked Whittier for taking it upon himself to seek the rate hike without formal board action on the move.

The fellow who sets a good example only when he has an audience lacks character.

Gluing On Wood Calls For Care

AP Newsfeatures

In the home workshop, most gluing jobs involve wood — and the varieties of wood glues are almost endless. Gluing failures can be attributed generally to two causes: not using the proper adhesive and failing to follow the directions on the container.

There are two basic types of wood glues. One type is used as purchased; the other must be mixed with water or a catalyst. Hide, fish and resin glues usually are used as is. The hide and fish glues had to be heated years ago and had an objectionable odor. Today they do not have to be heated, have virtually no odor and have excellent holding strength. The resin glues already mixed generally have less holding power but set faster and do not tend to stain. All three of these liquid glues should not be used on objects that will be left outdoors or are constantly exposed to high humidity.

Another type of resin glue comes in a powder which must be mixed with water. It is water-resistant and stainless and is especially good for bonding veneers. Also in powder form is casein glue. It is not stainless, but is very strong and has this advantage for the amateur: it helps to fill poorly made joints. We hesitate to mention that, because a well-made joint can always be glued together better than a poorly made one. However, if you should happen to make an ill-fitting joint, powdered casein glue will do a better job of locking it in place than other kinds.

Completely waterproof glue for woods — the kind used in bonding plywood layers — comes in powder form which is mixed with a catalyst. It is more expensive than most other types, but is excellent for use on furniture that will remain outdoors.

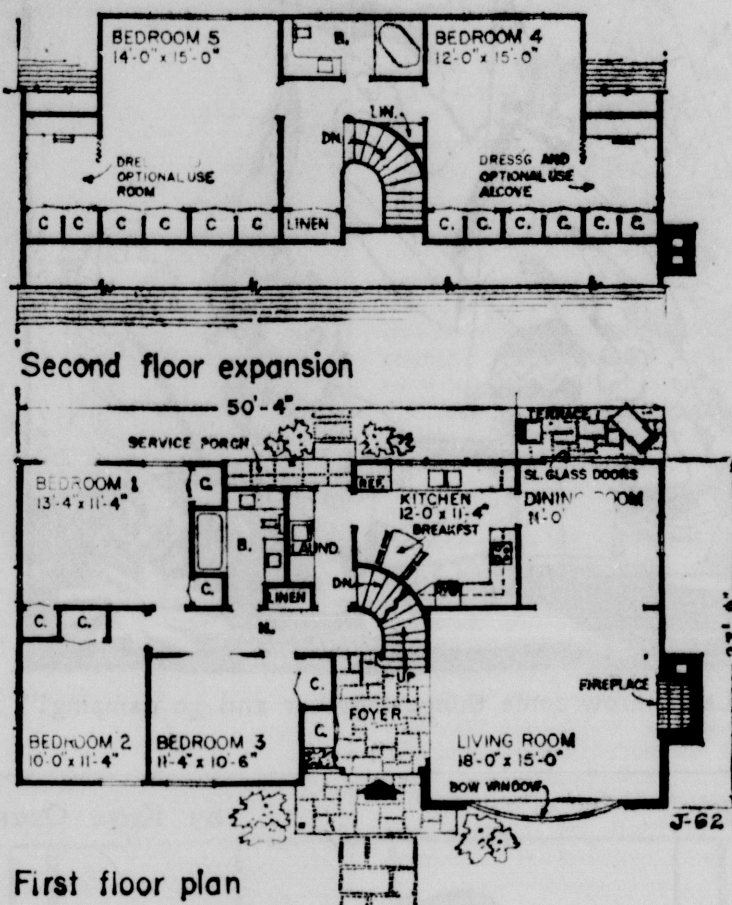

Contact cement, as the name implies, is applied where clamps either can not or are not used. Its most common use is in the bonding of laminated plastic to wood. Another quick-setting type of adhesive is epoxy resin. It often comes in two containers or applicators, the contents of which are mixed before application. This must be used instantly, since one of the ingredients is a hardening agent. If not used very quickly, the mixture hardens and becomes useless.

There are dozens of other special-purpose adhesives on the market for bonding rubber, leather, textiles and all other kinds of materials. In making a selection, take a few minutes to read the directions on the label rather than choosing a container that has an attractive appearance or is cheapest. While many glues have several different purposes, each usually is very good for one particular job and merely adequate for most others.

And, above all, follow the directions to the letter. The precautions that apply to one type of glue do not necessarily apply to another.

The Great Eastern was the name of the steamship used to lay the Atlantic cable.

Floor Plans: A 38-foot dormer across the rear allows the upstairs rooms to be exceptionally large and to have full height, flat ceilings. The upstairs expansion adds 804 square feet to the basic house size of 1,316 square feet. Note the abundance of closets, and the large counter tops in bathrooms and kitchen.

Glamor on a Budget: A 90-degree curved staircase with an open balcony, and a flagstone floor, enhance the gracious entrance foyer in this modest home. Living room is at right; door at left opens to hallway leading to kitchen and rear service entry.

Buy House Like You Buy A Car

AP Newsfeatures

Does the average woman run the dishwasher, garbage disposal unit or washing machine in a home before the family purchases it? Does her husband inspect the oil burner, pump and hot water heater? Usually not. But those and other items can bring up the cost considerably if they are defective and must be replaced.

Why not buy a house as one buys a car? Test it, inspect it, figure its depreciation, suggests an expert on house selection, Paul Anthony.

"A house purchase is an emotional experience for the buyer and once he finds a house that meets his requirements from an architectural point of view and is in the right locality, he is likely to put down his deposit, without taking many other things into consideration," he says.

The same man who inspects a car engine to the last spark plug, even though the car is a beauty, before he buys it, will accept a house because it has pretty lines and a good site, Anthony says. That should just be the beginning of a house investigation.

"Either through timidity or reluctance most home shoppers don't conduct thorough research when they plan to buy a home. They should operate plumbing fixtures, peer up the fireplace, close and open doors, raise and lower windows," he points out.

If one feels inadequate in judging a home there are firms to make reports on the structural soundness of the home. Anthony's firm in White Plains, N. Y., Inspections Incorporated, is typical of professional engineering staffs which size up homes and make long check-list reports covering everything from site conditions of the home to documents that should be transferred at the time of the sale.

But any disinterested third party who is an expert may give you a report, if there is no firm that will do the entire job, Anthony says. The individual reports of heating contractors, electrical experts, plumbing contractors can help, although a combined effort and a method helps reveal faults and reach conclusion, he says.

"One puzzling aspect to a new home buyer are conditions of the site," Anthony points out. "Many people say, 'Oh, there are no water problems because the house is on level ground,' but the condition or kind of soil, such as clay, impermeable to water, may have much to do with water drainage," he explains. Points covered in his firm's large check list include community and neighborhood valuation. Such items as traffic characteristics, municipal installations contemplated, snow removal, fire department and garbage pickup are analyzed.

These are some of the points from other categories on the check list:

SITE: Is there surface drainage from adjacent property; evidence of erosion; filled land or frost heave in the driveways? Covers for open pits?

ON-SITE UTILITIES: Water system, storage tank, disposal system, storm drainage system, gas system, electric system.

EXTERIOR: Construction and structural adequacy, foundation; windows — flashing, caulking, shutter condition; gutters and leaders; drainage of drywells, storm drains; roof flashings and condition; chimney condition; evidence of termites or decay and conditions favoring termites.

BASEMENT AND UTILITY (or crawl) AREAS: Foundation walls, floors and windows are checked and overhead beams tested for structural adequacy. Ditto girders, columns, piers. Drainage, flooding seepage, condensation and dampness evidence, ventilation adequacy; termites and decay evidence or conditions favoring it, such as wood in contact with soil.

BUILDING UTILITIES: Electric system, wiring, distribution panel and special circuits — oil burner, pump, electric range, air conditioner, drier, bathroom heater, dishwasher. Plumbing system; water system; heater.

ROOM ANALYSIS: Floor, ceiling, walls, wainscoting in all rooms. Utilities in the kitchen are checked.

GARAGE: Fireproofing, floor pitch, doors, ventilation adequacy and illumination adequacy are established.

Documents to be transferred at the time of sale include location plan of the disposal system.

Farmers Oppose Research Cutback

LANSING — Expressing "amazement" at proposed cuts in agricultural research appropriations, Walter Wightman, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau has brought support of the 70,000 member farm organization to bear on continued funds for a program of agricultural research and education.

Reportedly the cuts have been asked for by University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher in an appearance before the Senate Appropriations Committee. Hatcher criticized appropriations proposed for agricultural research and extension work, as outlined in Governor Romney's budget message.

Wightman said that Michigan agriculture needs to expand to assure "economic growth" in the state. He said that Michigan farmers need more, not less research, to "face the challenge of new plant and animal diseases and insects now reaching Michigan."

"NO MONEY DOWN"

Ann Landers Wife Wants Europe Hubby Wants Car

Dear Ann Landers: Nine years ago I started to save for a trip to Europe. My husband and I are accustomed to frugal living and could easily tour Europe for three months on the $2,000 I will have by July.

I've studied books on England, France, Italy and Switzerland. I've attended travel movies and features. I've clipped articles from the travel section of our newspaper. I've even learned French.

The trouble is my husband. He has never shown any enthusiasm for travel. I always thought it was laziness, but now I realize he doesn't want to spend the money. He has suggested we buy a new car instead—or help our son buy a home (we bought our own home)—or just put it away for our old age.

I get sick when I think of the years I've dreamed of this trip. It would be our first vacation in 28 years. He says if I insist, he'll go, but maybe his attitude would spoil my good time. I'd hate to go alone. Please help me.—ELEANOR H.

Dear Eleanor: Insist that your husband go. Plan the vacation activities with HIS interests in mind as well as your own. You know his tastes better than anyone alive.

If he doesn't appreciate art, don't haul him out of bed at dawn to walk his legs off in galleries. Use your noodle and see to it he has a fine time. Then you can start saving for a trip to the Orient.

Dear Ann Landers: I was surprised that you agreed with "In

The Middle." He was crying his eyes out because he was the middle kid in the family and had problems from all sides.

Well, I'm the oldest in a family of seven and I would gladly change places with somebody in the middle. All my life I've had to set an example for everybody.

I've always had to go to bed early because my younger brothers accused my parents of favoritism if I got special privileges. As the oldest, I had to let the younger ones have their way because "they didn't know any better."

If the younger ones got into trouble when my folks were away I caught the blame because I should have "watched them." I wish I could go join that family where the oldest kid gets the privileges. In this family I get only the grief.—ALSO COMPLAINING

Dear Complaining: We've heard from the oldest, the one in the middle, and now look at what the youngest has to say.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the creep who complained because he was the middle one in the family made me laugh. There is no tougher spot than being the youngest. I know because that's where I am.

I have three older brothers and an older sister. I can't remember ever getting anything to wear that was bought brand new, just for me. My mother always says, "This is too good to throw away. All can wear it." Even the patches have patches. It isn't only clothes — it's school supplies, books, toys. Just name it and I've inherited it.

The youngest is the messenger boy and errand-runner. "Go get this . . . get that. Bring my grey sweater. My purse is upstairs. My skates are in the basement. Go to the store. Walk the dogs."

The last in line gets the dirty work, the hand-me-downs and the neck of the chicken. It's no fun being the baby in the family. It's all work.—END OF THE LINE.

Dear Line: Again my readers have proven that it's not viewpoint but point of view that makes life interesting. Thanks for your letter.

Soo Edges Gladstone; Esky GLC Cage Champ

SAULT STE. MARIE—The Soo Blue Devils rallied from a 28-26 halftime deficit to edge the Gladstone Braves and hand the Escanaba Eskimos the Great Lakes Conference championship here Friday night.

Soo's victory knocked Gladstone out of a chance to share the GLC throne room with the Eskimos, regardless of the outcome of the remaining conference games next week. Escanaba hosts Stephenson Tuesday night and Gladstone entertains Munising Friday.

The Blue Devils parlayed superior rebounding and a superb bench performance into the comeback triumph.

With Dennis Porter, a 6-4 workhorse, showing the way on the boards with 27 rebounds, Soo was able to control the action most of the way. The height paid off in second and third shots when the Blue Devils missed from the field.

Porter was a big gun in the Soo attack, scoring four field goals in the first half and converting eight straight free throw attempts for 16 points to match John Lutz in the scoring department.

Tom Payment turned in the key relief performance, coming off the bench in the second half to contribute nine points.

A balanced scoring effort pulled Gladstone ahead 28-26 at the half, after a 14-14 first period deadlock.

But after hitting 42 per cent of their shots in the first half, the Braves ran into a cold spell and tallied only seven points in the third period, trailing 37-35 entering the final frame. They hit on only six of 24 field goal attempts in the second half.

The Blue Devils pulled away early in the fourth and slowed the action to a deliberate pace. The Braves were forced to go for the ball and were unable to get it. Three late driving layups by Lutz killed any chances the Braves had for a rally.

Tom Domres and Len Sabourin hit 11 points apiece and Tom Vanlerberghe added 10 for the Braves who were outscored by three field goals. Soo's rebounding edge was 36-24.

Neither team was hot from the foul line and inability to cash in on one-and-one attempts hurt the Braves. They converted 11 of 23 attempts from 19 Soo personals, missing a potential of 16 points from the line. So hit on 10 of 20 attempts.

Redskins Fashion 16th Victory At Nahma's Expense

HERMANVILLE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins won the battle between two league leaders here Friday night, downing the Nahma Arrows 68-59.

Hermansville already has clinched the Big Eight Conference championship and hiked its season record to 16 victories in 18 starts. The game was Hermansville's last of the regular season.

Nahma is leading the Central League race by a slim margin over Perkins and Eben. The Arrows have a 12-3 overall record.

The Redskins flashed a balanced scoring attack to lead all the way after a 13-9 edge in the first period. It was 33-28 at the half and the Redskins wrapped it up with an 18-11 margin in the third period.

Hermansville held Nahma's Pat Groleau, leading scorer in the Upper Peninsula, to 18 points on seven field goals and four free throws. He fouled out with 3:35 remaining in the game.

Groleau boosted his season scoring total to 471 points but his average slipped to 31.4 per game. Sophomore Ron Povoletto led the Redskins with 17 points while three mates reached double figures.

Hermansville hit on 37 percent of its shots from the field, 28 of 74, and added 12 of 23 from the free throw line.

Hermansville won the jayvee game 84-12.

Cooks Clipped By Eben Quint

EBEN—The Eben Eagles closed the gap on Nahma and Perkins in the Central League basketball race here Friday night with a 59-47 victory over Cooks Clippers.

The victory was the 10th against three defeats in league play for Coach Bob Johnson's Eagles. Nahma is 10-2 and Perkins 11-3 in the loop.

Andy Freberg led the Eagles with 19 points and Dick Koski kicked in with 15 as Eben took a 12-6 margin in the first period and padded it to 29-17 at halftime.

Cooks threatened briefly in the third period with an effective fast break but Eben throttled the rally to win going away in the final quarter.

Larry Swagart topped the Cooks scoring list with 15 points.

Michigan Sports Finances Improve

ANN ARBOR — The sports finance picture improved at the University of Michigan last year, the board in control of intercollegiate athletics reports.

Operating income (excess of income over expenses) for the fiscal year ended last June 30 was $153,338—compared to $60,461 in the fiscal 1961, the board said in its annual report to the Board of Regents Friday.

Total receipts were $1.42 million, compared to $1.26 million the previous year, the report said.

Main reason for the improvement was a 50 cent hike in the price of football tickets that netted some $96,480, said Athletic Director Fritz Crisler.

Scheffing Wants Pitchers To Hit

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bob Scheffing wants all the Tigers' pitchers to be rally stoppers—but not when they're batting.

So batting practice for pitchers is being emphasized more than it has for years at Detroit's spring camp.

The days when the ninth spot in the Tigers' batting order was almost an automatic out are over. At least that's the intention.

This will take some doing with Hank Aguirre, admittedly the major league's worst hitter, pitching every fifth day. He improved his average to .027 last year with steady work after going .000 the two previous seasons.

"This is great," said Aguirre Friday after taking his licks and actually hitting the ball thrown up by the pitching machine. "We've never heard this before."

"It's really helping me. They're teaching me to chop down on the ball and keep my eye on it."

Friday was the third straight day pitcher's batting was stressed. A chilly wind forced the Tigers to work out in their converted hangar. The pitchers will concentrate on improving their stroke until the infielders and outfielders report Tuesday.

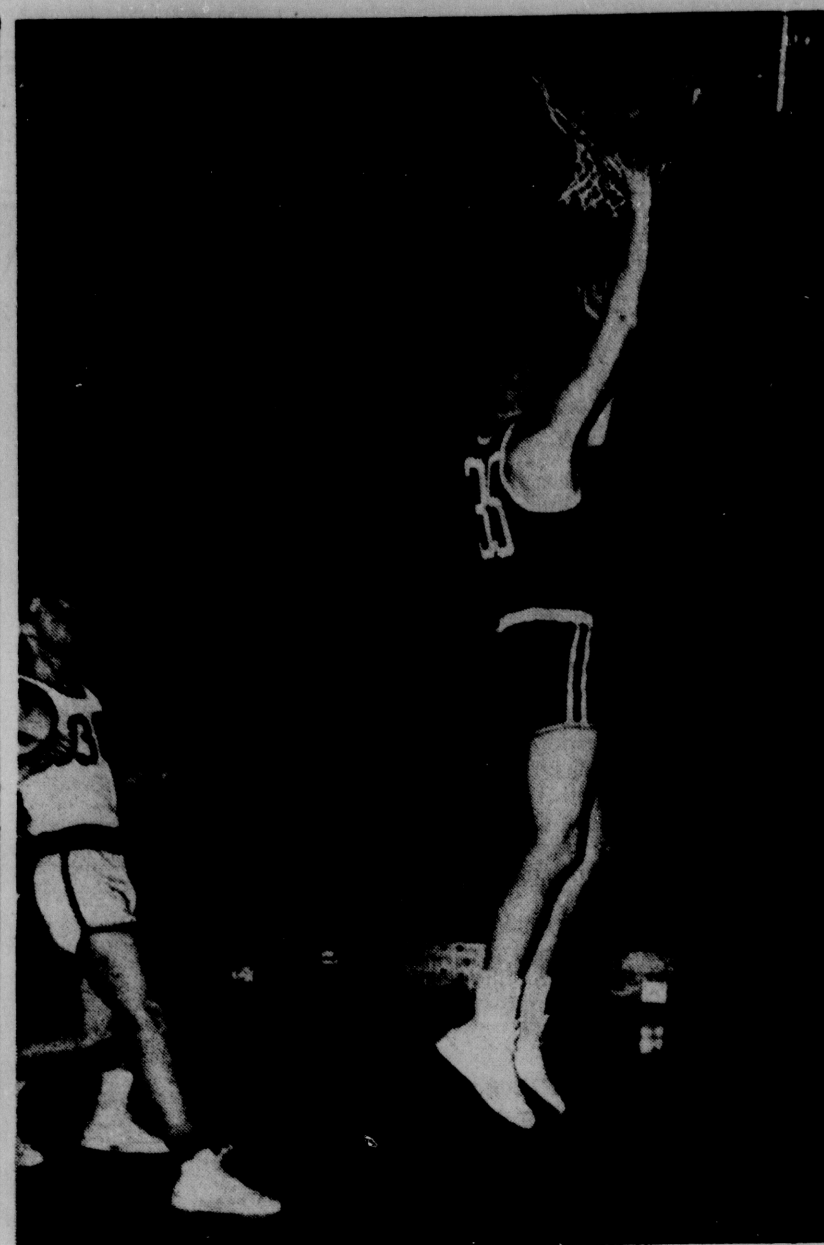

The intensive batting practice may have turned up a weak-hitting companion for Aguirre.

Holy Name Whips Kingsford Quint For Eighth Win

KINGSFORD — The Holy Name Crusaders tuned up for their district Class B tournament here Friday night, whipping the Kingsford Flivvers at the Dickinson County Armory, site of the tournament the first week in March.

Holy Name moved out to a 17-5 lead in the first period and were never threatened in registering their eighth victory against six defeats this season.

With their fast break working to perfection and Frank Trotter scorching the nets with 11 field goals, the Crusaders dominated all phases of the game. Frank Stupak led Holy Name to a 53-41 edge in rebounds with 19. George Milkovich pulled down 10 and Tim LeMire, hampered by early fouls, had seven.

Trotter led the scoring with 26 points followed by Stupak with 14 and Ben Yagodzinski with a dozen.

The Crusaders threw a blanket over Dick Berlinski, Kingsford's scoring star, and held him to two field goals in the first half. With the outcome no longer in doubt, the Crusader coach called on his reserves in the late stages of the game. Berlinski spurted for six field goals in the final period and took Kingsford scoring honors with 17 points, the only Flivver to reach double figures.

The Crusaders hit on 24 of 62 field goal attempts for 38 per cent and added 24 of 35 gift tosses, cashing in on their one-and-one opportunities. Kingsford had 20

Top Vaulters Leap Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The burning question of just how high is up in the pole vault may be answered tonight when world record holder Pentti Nikula of Finland takes on four other 16-footers in the highlight of the National AAU indoor track and field championships in Madison Square Garden.

If Nikula falters any of a half-dozen other stars could steal the spotlight.

They include Jim Beatty, who set the indoor record of 3:58.6 for the mile just a week ago, Valery Brumel of Russia, out to make amends for his only high jump loss to John Thomas two weeks ago, Gary Gubner of New York University, who hopes to improve on his 64-11 1/4 shot put record, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of Russia, who set the indoor broad jump record of 26-10 three weeks ago; Lt. Jack Yerman of the U.S. Army, who is after the 600 record of 1:09.3, and Bill Crothers of the University of Toronto who has been planning an assault on the 2:06 1,000-yard record of Peter Snell.

Nikula, who soared 16-8 3/4 three weeks ago in Finland—more than five inches better than any other vaulter in history—predicts he'll go at least 16-6 and maybe hit the magic 17-foot mark.

Dave Tork of West Virginia, Rolando Cruz of Villanova, John Belitza of Maryland and Ron Morris of the Southern California Striders, 16-footers all, will argue it out with Nikula.

Wisconsin's Lou Holland led Big Ten football scorers last fall with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Emeralds Defeat Munising 71-61 In Great Lakes

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds continued their bid for a first division finish in the tight Great Lakes Conference race here Friday night by knocking off the Munising Mustangs 71-61.

The victory was the seventh against five defeats in conference action for Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers.

After a see-saw start, the Emeralds took command and led 20-13 at the end of the first period and were never headed in the remainder of the game.

Freshman Tom Brawley turned in a sparkling performance for Manistique, contributing 16 points rebounding well and putting out a strong defensive effort.

Big Mike Dissinger continued to set the scoring pace for Manistique, pumping in 10 field goals and eight free throws for 28 points. He was off to a fast start with 10 points in the first period and closed with a 14 point burst in the fourth. Jim McDonough was Manistique's third double figure scorer with 13 points.

Dale Adair turned in one of his finest games for the Mustangs, scoring 26 points. He pumped in 13 in the final period, tangling with Dissinger in a hot two-man scoring battle.

The Emeralds will close out their regular season with a game at Marquette Friday.

Munising won last night's jayvee game 50-39.

Michigan Tech Clinches Share Of Cage Crown

MOORHEAD, Minn. (AP)—Michigan Tech clinched at least a tie for the Northern State Conference basketball title Friday night with an 85-70 victory over Moorhead State.

Tech, now 8-1 in the league, led 41-33 at the half. Bill Massey had 21 points for Michigan Tech, with Bob Lurtsena adding 20.

Michigan Hosts Big Track Meet

ANN ARBOR — Some 450 athletes from seven colleges and universities, 11 high schools and numerous track clubs in three states pour into Michigan's Yost Field House today for the Michigan Indoor Track Federation Championships.

A feature attraction of the event, the first championship to be sponsored by the new organization, is expected to be the mile race. It will pit Penn State's Howie Deardorff against Dave Hayes and Jim Neuhausen of Michigan.

Deardorff will attempt to break his own field house mile record of 4:08.5 set in a meet here last week. He topped the 4:09.9 mark set by Michigan's John Moule in 1955.

Athletes from Penn State, Bowling Green State University, the University of Toledo, Grand Rapids Junior College, Western Michigan, Michigan State and Michigan are entered.

Newberry Surprises Stephenson Eagles

NEWBERRY — Coach Art Allen's Newberry Indians reached up from the depths of the Great Lakes Conference here last night to slap the Stephenson Eagles 58-46.

The victory was Newberry's third of the season against 12 setbacks. Stephenson entered the game with a 7-7 record.

The Indians came up with their finest rebounding performance of the year to take command of the game. John Hendrickson led the assault on the boards and Jerry Hunter had his best night under the nets.

Newberry never trailed after the first period in which they grabbed a 13-10 margin. The Indians clinched the victory with a 21-point scoring binge in the final period.

Balance in the scoring department paid off as four Indians reached double figures and a fifth tallied nine points. Hendrickson and Hunter led with 14. Ted Bays added 11 and Joe Panula 10. Tony Lehman contributed nine.

Outscoring Stephenson 21 to 17 in field goals, the Indians added 16 of 28 free throws while the Eagles converted 12 of 20.

Stephenson won the jayvee game 62-19.

Fullmer Will Quit Boxing If He Loses Bout Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—World middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria battles to keep his boxing crown tonight against the challenge of the dedicated brawler he whipped to win the title—Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah.

"I'm confident I can beat him again," the 33-year-old champion declared before their 15-round nationally televised bout starting at 10 p.m. EST, in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

"If I lose, it will be my last fight," declared Fullmer, who at 31 had not been defeated in 17 fights before tangling with Tiger in San Francisco last Oct. 23. "I feel confident. If I didn't, I would not want to try it."

Odds of 3-1 favoring Tiger make him a stronger favorite than when he was in the San Francisco bout when he climbed into the ring a 9-5 choice in the battle for the World Boxing Association version of the 160-pound title.

At that time, Paul Pender of Massachusetts was recognized as the champion in his home state, New York and Europe. But on Nov. 9, he was stripped of the title in all but Massachusetts for failure to defend it. So now Tiger is recognized as champion in all but the one state.

"I think this fight will be tougher than the first one," the champion commented. "Fullmer will be coming all out. He wants the title back as badly as I want to keep it."

After watching movies of the

Arizona State, Fourth In Poi, Eyes All Marbles

By The Associated Press

Arizona State, ranked fourth in the nation and quietly eyeing all the marbles, has stormed past the last major obstacle in its path to the Western Athletic Conference basketball title and a spot in the NCAA western regional tournament.

Coach Ned Wulfsberg's speedy Sun Devils raced past Wyoming 82-72 Friday night and all but nailed down the Conference title and the NCAA spot. The loss eliminated Wyoming from title consideration and left only Brigham Young with an outside chance of catching the team from Tempe.

punches from Tiger that spelled defeat before when Fullmer finished with cuts over both eyes and a bloody nose.

"I'll do the same as I did last time," said Tiger who had no movies. "I'll wait and see. If Fullmer does have something new I can meet it."

Scoring this time will be on Nevada's 5-point must system with the winner of each round getting five points, and the loser four or less, depending on his showing.

Each boxer gets five points for an even stanza. A referee and two judges, to be announced at ringside, render the decision.

Screwball Pitch Helped Combback

MIAMI (AP)—Robin Roberts of the Baltimore Orioles is a pitcher with a job and, at 36, a new lease on life.

Ten months ago, the one-time ace right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies couldn't make that statement. Ignored in the National League expansion draft and dropped by the New York Yankees, Roberts was in the baseball breadlines, begging for employment.

Today, everybody's choice as the "comeback athlete of the year" after winning 10 games for seventh-place Baltimore, Roberts let the secret out.

He owes it all, he says, to a new pitch—second cousin to the screwball—which he borrowed from Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Johnny Antonelli.

The critics had contended that Roberts, six times a 20-game winner, was over the hill after that dismal 1-10 record for the 1961 Phillies and because he stubbornly refused to develop an extra pitch after he lost his fast ball.

Last Spring, after purchasing his contract from Philadelphia, the Yankees gave Roberts a trial at their Fort Lauderdale camp.

There was a sad parting with the Yankees, but Roberts refused to quit on himself. He asked Baltimore's general manager, Lee MacPhail, and manager Billy Hitchcock for a tryout. Last May 21 he signed an Oriole contract.

In desperation, he tried a left-up pitch he had seen Spahn and Antonelli use with effect in the National League. Roberts releases it with an overspin flick of the right wrist and it sinks down and away from left-handed hitters.

Roberts concedes that the fast ball which accounted for many of his 244 big league victories doesn't overpower the hitters any more. But he believes it gained velocity with regular work for the Orioles last year, and looks faster because of the contrast with his new pitch.

Danceorama Helps Fund For Retarded

Hundreds of dancers stepped out last night at the Teamsters Hall to the music of 11 popular bands in a Danceorama that brought more than $1,500 in cash

February Chill Breaks Records

By The Associated Press

Winter took a final weekend punch at February today as unseasonably cold temperatures and clear skies covered most of the nation.

Subzero temperatures were recorded in the Northeast and Midwest and the mercury stayed below the freezing point in most other areas.

In the Northeast, early morning readings in New York included -12 in Oneonta, -11 in Albany, -6 in Glens Falls, -4 in Rome and -2 in Utica. The -11 in Albany shattered a record established in 1876 when the low for Feb. 23 was -4.

Midwest temperatures included -15 in International Falls, -7 in Hibbing and -5 in Duluth, Minn.; a -5 was recorded in Wausau, Wis., and -1 in Eau Claire and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was -5.

Readings in the 50s were prevalent over southern Florida, Arizona and California. The low 30s covered the Gulf Coast to Texas and over the Western Plains, the Plateau and Rocky Mountain regions.

In the Southeast, below-freezing marks reached into northern Florida, where 30 was reported in Tallahassee. The lows ranged from the teens in Tennessee and the northern portions of Georgia and Alabama to the 20s in the southern Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina to the 40s and 50s in southern Florida.

Temperatures in the teens also prevailed in North Carolina, southern Illinois, Iowa and the eastern and central Dakotas.

Most of the nation east of the Continental Divide was a bit warmer today.

Norm's Market Entered; Many Items Missing

Liquor, tobacco and other merchandise was stolen from Norm's Super Market, 1130 Stephenson Ave., last night by thieves who forced open a door on the north side of the building.

Police said that 26 bottles of liquor, 20 packs of cigarettes, three boxes of candy, and a quantity of beer were reported missing.

The burglary was discovered at 8:55 a.m. when the store was opened by Tom Lavolette.

Teen-agers had a wonderful time in their own second floor ballroom at Teamsters Hall, where they danced for the benefit of the fund to provide a school for retarded children in Escanaba. The Danceorama was sponsored by Teamsters Local Union No. 328. (Daily Press Photos)

There was fun for everyone at the Danceorama and the first floor of Teamsters Hall was given over to adults. The event was enormously successful in bringing funds to aid the project for a school for retarded children, an undertaking of Project Pride Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Flu Wave Hits In Texas Cities

By The Associated Press

Influenza has reached near epidemic proportions in several Texas cities.

The outbreaks, once confined largely to the Atlantic Seaboard, continue to sweep westward. Areas in Missouri and Michigan are hard hit.

Austin, the Texas capital, had 467 flu-type cases reported in the last six days. More than 100 teachers have been sidelined by the disease.

School absenteeism in Dallas skyrocketed to 20 per cent Friday, twice that of the previous day. Dallas hospitals report a heavy run of flu cases and have stopped visitors, except for the critically ill.

Two medical experts said the severe outbreak of respiratory infections in the St. Louis area is predominantly Asian flu. School officials are hopeful that the three-day vacation this weekend will halt the spread of the disease and reduce the mounting teacher and pupil absenteeism.

Dr. Charles Anderson, Detroit health commissioner, estimated that 30,000 Detroiters are suffering from viruses attacking the upper respiratory system.

Labor Leaders Meet Venezuela President Today

MIAMI (AP) — Romulo Betancourt, president of politically troubled Venezuela, meets today with top American labor leaders.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and members of the federation's Executive Council arranged the session.

Betancourt arrived Friday night from New York where he went from Washington after conferences with President Kennedy and State Department officials.

The meeting with the U.S. labor leaders was reportedly aimed at bolstering Betancourt's already strong support among workers in Venezuela where Communist forces have been active.

Escanaba Called Branch Capital For Unity Rally

sula's small representation in the Legislature and the Upper Peninsula's natural economic orientation toward Milwaukee and Chicago instead of toward Lansing and Detroit have influenced the development of their relationship. Governor Romney is reorganizing the state's economic development agencies and planning tax reforms that will affect the Upper Peninsula's economy directly and these considerations were expected to bring comment in Gov. Romney's inaugural address today.

Inaugural Address

In his inaugural address at Lansing the Governor highlighted:

"Today's challenges, and how we meet them will shape Michigan's future. The people of Michigan have told their elected officials . . . especially here in the capital . . . that they demand an end to partisanship for the sake of partisanship. They have said they don't believe either political party has all the answers to Michigan's problems, and that men of good will from both parties must get together to solve these problems."

(All of the Upper Peninsula's legislators were invited to take part in today's inauguration.)

"The qualities most needed for progress are individual and personal qualities and can only be adequately developed on the basis of personal responsibility. We have been rushing to correct the indefensible imbalances and calloused indifference of the age of irresponsible individualism."

Cold War End

"These corrections have come largely through an unparalleled expansion in government and enlarged public programs at all levels, particularly at the national level."

"The big shortage is not places to start or things to do, but citizens capable and willing to do what desperately needs to be done. I shall encourage, support and recognize coalitions of concerned citizens skilled in the unequalled tool of voluntary cooperation as the mainspring of Michigan's future progress."

"Careful use of public money should be as basic tenet of all public officials. As governor, I intend to make it a passion. Our tax structure must be reshaped. Perhaps most important of all, Michigan can restore the confidence of others by demonstrating that we have put an end to the cold war."

Governor Romney and his party will fly back to Lansing tonight after the inaugural ball.

UNDER ONE BANNER

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Gov. George Romney called on Michigan's Young Republicans today to help unify the party under one banner and steer clear of factionalism.

In a brief stop-over en route to a second inaugural ceremony at Escanaba, the Republican governor said in a speech prepared for delegates to the Michigan College Republican Federation's state convention:

"Too many of us have proclaimed loudly and proudly that we are Taft Republicans or Eisenhower Republicans or Goldwater Republicans. Too many of us have dared others to knock down the walls we raise about ourselves and self-righteously label conservative or liberal or moderate."

Pie For Birthday

Romney said it virtually is impossible for people to agree on a definition of such labels and added that "one-sided, special-interest groups" in politics tend to undermine the principles of the party in general.

Hikers Sprawl Over Nob Hill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fifty-mile hikers lay sprawled all over San Francisco's Nob Hill Friday night, wondering if their George Washington's Birthday marathon had been worth it.

Blistered and bruised, they sat, stood, moaned and whispered in little groups. There were about 200 of them—about one-tenth of those who started the hike.

Kids in Bermuda shorts, loafers, sneakers, wild but worn hairdos, blue jeans, with guitars, straw hats and baseball caps mingled with late evening diners and night life patrons.

Mecca for the mostly teenaged crowd was radio station KYA, located on the side of Nob Hill. A KYA disc jockey, Tommy Saunders, had proposed the long walk up the San Francisco Peninsula on his program.

He joined the hiking group and by 10 o'clock Friday night he was in St. Francis Memorial Hospital. Dr. Francis J. Charlton said Saunders was suffering from fatigue.

Police estimated the hiking high schoolers at about 2,000 in all. They started at the gate of Santa Clara University near San Jose at 6 a.m. The more rugged began struggling into San Francisco after dark.

An accompanying proud mother said, "It's 69 miles from the gate to here. Not 50, I know. I clocked it on my car speedometer."

During the day, highway patrolmen said they were getting frantic about the whole idea of the hiking fad. "The congestion is getting unbelievable," one officer said. "The trouble is they walk with the cars."
